

Individual Reflections 1 – Joel Båtsman Hilmersson

- What do I want to learn or understand better?
 - I would like to learn how SCRUM works better so that we can better optimize what we will do in the meetings. How to make them more effective for us. To be able to do this I can read up on it better from the course material.
- How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?
 - The same as above. if learn what to do under scrum meetings and how it works I can for one, tell the other team members about it, and two, under meetings know what to do to make them more effective for us.
- What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?
 - I have helped plan the main meeting schedule (main meetings on Mondays and Fridays with smaller in-between) that we will use for now. I have also helped with other planning details concerning what rooms we will sit in. Other than that, we have mostly worked on everything together so it's hard to say exactly what just I have done as we did everything together.
- What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?
 - I have helped constructing the social contract for the group. Before that I also created a quick survey for everyone in the group to answer so that we would get to know what ideas the other group members have and how they were feeling towards the group work. This was foremost used as a starting point in the beginning decision on what we will do in the group.
